

"I SKIN MY SONS TO MAKE 'EM SHARP," SAYS "DOC" ROCKEFELLER

Rockefeller "boys," he wanted a challenge taken to "Doc."

"Tell him," said "Uncle Joe," "that I'll be glad to have him skin me, and that I'll travel to where he is just for the sake of talking over old times with him."

Made Money in Cancer "Cure."

Webster said that William A. Rockefeller made a lot of money by treating cancer patients. He advertised to cure cancer, and traveled all over the country. His handbills, which would be stuck up in the post office at each town, were printed with a black space left for the name of that town. "Uncle Joe" quoted one that he had seen in Middleburg, at East Richmond, Summit county, O., in 1896. This read as follows:

DR. WILLIAM A. ROCKEFELLER, The Celebrated Cancer Specialist, Will Be Here on _____ for One Day, At This Hotel.

All cases of Cancer cured, unless they are too far gone and they can be Greatly Benefited.

"When they didn't have cancer," said "Uncle Joe" Webster to the reporter, "he'd do them some good and then 's'd advise 'em to get cancer. He'd tell 'em, only had a burst blood vessel and she sounded his praises as a cancer cure for years afterward. When he'd cured 'em he'd get the $25 anyhow. That was his fee."

"But Doc" was always making trips to Iowa in those days. He'd tell 'em about them when he got back. When ever he had got any money he'd go to Iowa and lend it out at twelve per cent. He thought he'd be able to pay up. When the money wasn't paid and the farmer wanted to renew the note "Doc" would foreclose. He'd calculate the lot of Iowa land in that way. When he moved away from here and went to Cleveland and bought that house on Euclid Avenue, he was supposed to be quite rich for those times.

"Doc" was a great joker always and very jovial. All the small boys were glad to carry home from him a few marks. He always wanted to shoot. If there weren't any birds or squirrels he'd shoot at a target and nothing tickled him so much as to win. He always wanted to beat."

The Rockefeller Reunion.

The Rockefeller family reunion, that William A. Rockefeller was seen by his old friends and neighbors was in September, 1902, when John D. arranged for a reunion of the Rockefeller family. He had the Forest Hill estate in Cleveland, "Uncle Joe" Webster, William Humiston and a dozen of the old Strongsville farmers were there. There were two newspapers printed not a line about the celebration. William A. Rockefeller and his two brothers, Esbert and Norman, were there. Esbert was a farmer in Tioga county, N. Y. Norman is said to live somewhere near Buffalo, but he was in Erie county was unproductive as the great estate.

According to all accounts, "Doc" Rockefeller was the life and soul of the reunion. He was the one who made the son, John D., abruptly turn up to him and walk about the grounds, while his father's Strongsville friends were shouting and laughing. John D. had provided "pigeons," whether they were live birds, the lapse of time makes it impossible to say with accuracy, and he did not mind the hands of the gun. John D. Rockefeller, who was a humorist, and he was in great humor all day.

More than once when his profanity had driven John D. to turn away for fear of offending another, part of the grounds, where the father and his old-time neighbors with a chuckle, "John doesn't like to hear that kind of talk," John was always quiet, you know."

The Father Was Asthmatic.

Among the few of the old-timers from Strongsville who did not attend the reunion was Mrs. Mar. Humiston Norton, of Hartland, O., who is the niece of William A. Rockefeller, and the daughter of his sister, Mrs. Norton is on what is left of the old Humiston farm and her husband Howard, who prospered like the relatives remaining in Strongsville.

When the World reporter was in Strongsville Humiston was buying some chickens from "Uncle Joe" Webster for the Forest Hill place for $40, and was expected to arrive soon.

Mrs. Evans for several years was the companion of "Uncle Joe" Webster, and John D. Rockefeller's only sister. Her father, William Humiston, for a long time was a partner in the business of the secret of William A. Rockefeller's whereabouts with Frank Rockefeller.

"Mrs. Rudd told me," said Mrs. Evans, "that only the four children—John D., William, Frank and herself—knew where the old man lived, and I don't think she knew, in recent years, have often talked with my father about it, and I am satisfied now that he doesn't know himself. At one time several of us knew where he was. This was several years ago, and my impression was that the place was somewhere in Kansas. But it is no more than an impression."

William Humiston, the father, and a nephew of William A. Rockefeller, whom he knew well as a boy, said to a World reporter, who drove into his place one day:

"Yes, I have heard from the old man recently. He's in the house most of the time. His relatives are troubling him, and his feet are pretty bad."

"Where is he?" was asked.

"Out in Iowa," said Humiston, promptly.

The day before Humiston's brother-in-law, Whitney, had asked him the same question.

"He's in Missouri," said Humiston. "Whereabouts Not Known."

A Cleveland, O., special quotes Frank Rockefeller, the younger brother of John D., as absolutely denying the in-crowd credits to him, the Sunday World, though he would not affirm or deny the truth of the statements contained therein. One of the mysteries of Cleveland, the special says, is the whereabouts of the aged William A. Rockefeller. The three sons appear to know his whereabouts, but his son-in-law, William Rudd, is said to have vowed recently that he did not. Dr. D. D. Norton, of Cleveland, once the Rockefeller family physician, but now retired, says he met the elder Rockefeller, a remarkably fine-looking, well-preserved man, at his home, Forest Hill, eight years ago.

ENVIES WEALTH, SAYS HIS NIECE

John D.'s Daughter Explains Why Frank Does Not Like His Brother.

CHICAGO, ILL., August 12.—Mrs. Harold Fowler McCormick, the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, yesterday defended her father against the oil king's younger brother, Frank Rockefeller. "Jealousy," she said, "brought about by my uncle's signal lack of business ability, is the cause of the situation he has heaped upon my father."

"My father holds no malice against him. It may not be consistent with the usual picture drawn of my father, but he holds malice against no man."

Mrs. McCormick said that the fortune of my father and his repeated failures in business have been wormwood and gall to him. The bitterness has grown from year to year. It has taken for its objective point the brother who has prospered."

"Between my father and my grandfather there always existed the keenest interest of the success of his son."

Mrs. McCormick said that her grandfather's health was responsible in a large degree for his being out of range of the public eye.

LITTLE PIGS' TAILS PREDICT WEATHER

Like Those That Ran "With Feathers in Snout to See Way Wind Blew."

WILMINGTON, DEL., August 12.—William Fearing, better known as "Uncle Billy," a well-known resident of Milton, claims that he has two animals which can tell the weather. They are a couple of small pigs, whose tails change with the weather. When the weather is fair the pigs have one curl, in wet weather they have two curls and just before a rain their tails hang straight.

William H. Wright, of Townsend, has a pig which goes beyond these, however, although it is not a barometer. This pig has six feet and a number of visitors have called to see it.

SHOT A BEAR IN THE GARDEN.

Mrs. Witham from Kitchen Window Saw Bruin Eating Her Berries.

PITTSBURGH, PA., August 12.—A black bear, weighing 150 pounds, was killed on October Mountain to-day by Mrs. Charles Witham, a slight little woman twenty-five years old, wife of the farmer in charge of the Whitney estate.

Mrs. Witham is a dead shot, but she confessed that she was startled as she looked out of her kitchen window and saw the bear eating her berries. She rushed to the door and fired a shot. The bear had a fair mark at a distance of not over thirty paces, and the bear was almost instantly killed.

The animal was skinned by Mr. Witham and a rug will be made of the skin. While the meat will furnish the larder.

Fred Ham and Robert Dewey drove up to the house with a truck, and came across a black bear, presumably the same one shot to-day. It chased the men, who were unarmed, some distance down the mountain.

CLOSE TO "MISSING LINK."

New Orang Outang at Bronx Zoo Walks Erect and Has Mustache.

NEW YORK, August 12.—An orang outang, which officials of the Bronx Zoological Park describe as the nearest approach to a human being in the monkey family yet shown in this country will be placed on exhibition at the zoo this morning, the animal being one which recently arrived from Africa.

Other orang outangs have shown strong resemblance to the human order, but this one's excellence as a "missing link" lies in its face being smooth-skinned, like that of a human, and the upper lip that might properly be termed a mustache, and its habit of standing erect most of the time instead of using all four limbs as on, as most of its kind do. It weighs about seventy-five pounds and stands three and one-half feet high.

New Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12.—Postmasters appointed for Virginia: Shuyler, Nelson county, Alexander L. Wray, vice J. M. Martine, resigned. For North Carolina: Frank Mitchell county, Wilburn Ollis, vice C. Buchanan, resigned. Townshank, Sampson county, Davis Duss, vice F. B. Murphy, resigned.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP

has been used by Millions of Mothers for their children while teething for over Fifty Years. It soothes the child, relieves the pain, and all pain, cures whooping cough, and the best remedy for colic, and is the best.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A BOTTLE.

50c.

IN CASH FOR 100 COUPONS

FROM

Piedmont

The Cigarette Of Quality

2 Coupons in Each Package

Coupons also Redeemable for Valuable Presents

Premium Department

AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.

Jersey City, N. J. St. Louis, Mo.

WANTED NO FROGS IN HIS ICE CREAM

Customer Was Not Really Crazy. A Tiny Batchman Was Frozen in the Danity.

NEW YORK, August 12.—Gregory Adams, New Rochelle, N. Y., Brooklyn, entered an ice cream store on Atlantic Avenue yesterday and ordered his favorite dish of ice cream. Soon he ordered a second portion.

He had reduced it to about one-half its original size when suddenly gazing intently at his half-eaten cream.

"Anything wrong, sir?" queried the waiter.

"Yes, say the legs are edible," murmured Mr. Adams to himself, and the waiter backed quickly away and answered the proprietor's inquiring glance with a significant tap on his forehead.

Then the customer recovered from his trance.

"Come here, will you?" he yelled to the proprietor. The latter cautiously approached.

"What in blazes do you call that?" demanded the angry patron, pointing to the melting legs of the ice cream.

The proprietor's gaze followed the questioner's finger.

"Ach, Himmel!" he ejaculated. "Some one has been a joke playing with me!"

"With you?" exclaimed the indignant Adams, and then he rushed out of the store.

The waiter approached the table curiously. The proprietor, in a paroxysm of cream, repeated a tiny frog.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12.—The following naval orders have been issued:

Lieutenant-Commander R. R. Belknap, detached from duty on Kearsarge, October 1, 1907, to Washington, D. C., on temporary duty, office of Naval Intelligence.

Lieutenant-Commander J. R. T. Blakely, detached from duty on Wolverine, August 29, 1907, to duty as assistant to the inspector in charge of the Third Light-House District, Tompkinsville, N. Y.

Lieutenant-Commander R. Weller, additional duty as inspector of ordnance, works at Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa., Quincey, Mass.

Lieutenant-Commander N. C. Twining, detached from duty at Bureau of Ordnance, Washington, D. C., September 28, to Kearsarge as executive officer.

Lieutenant-Commander E. R. Pollock, detached from duty at works of the River Shipbuilding Company, Quincy, Mass., to Wolverine as executive officer, August 29, 1907, to duty as assistant to the inspector in charge of the Third Light-House District, Tompkinsville, N. Y.

Lieutenant-Commander R. L. August, 9, from Newport; Kentucky sailed August 9, from North River, New York City, for Newport; Kearsarge arrived Bradford, R. I., August 9; Dolphin arrived New London August 9; Milwaukee sailed August 10 from Panama, Costa Rica, for Acapulco, San Salvador; Helena sailed August 10 from Chefoo for Shanghai.

Chief Carpenter J. T. S. Miller, to the United States Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I.

Movements of Vessels.—The following movements of vessels have been reported to the Bureau of Navigation:

Connecticut sailed August 9 from Rockland, Me., for Tompkinsville, N. Y.; Boston sailed August 9 from Tompkinsville, N. Y., for Buffalo; Buffalo sailed August 9 from Buffalo for Tompkinsville, N. Y.; Vermont arrived at Lynnhaven Bay August 9; Illinois sailed August 9 from Tompkinsville, N. Y., for Newport; Kentucky sailed August 9, from North River, New York City, for Newport; Kearsarge arrived Bradford, R. I., August 9; Dolphin arrived New London August 9; Milwaukee sailed August 10 from Panama, Costa Rica, for Acapulco, San Salvador; Helena sailed August 10 from Chefoo for Shanghai.

THREE DEAD IN EXPLOSION.

Bursting of Gasoline Engine Kills Three Men.

PITTSBURGH, PA., August 12.—Three men were burned, two of them fatally, by an explosion of a gasoline engine at the plant of the Pennsylvania Steel Co. at Erie, Pa., last night.

The injured are George Scott, aged 25, of Indragruff, Pa., condition critical; John Egan, aged 20, of Presport, Pa., recovery doubtful; William Huber, aged 28, of Tarentum, Pa., injuries not fatal. The victims are employees of the West Point Foundry Co., which has leased the engine, when the gasoline was ignited by a torch, and the explosion quickly followed.

CHATTANOOGA, August 12.—At a meeting of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce Secretary W. B. Royster presented to the same the preliminary correspondence from Chattanooga, between himself and the secretaries of a large number of the leading commercial bodies of the South, who have endorsed the idea of holding a secretaries' convention and promised to attend the same should one be held.

It has been definitely determined to hold such a convention, and the dates are fixed for October 16th and 17th in the city of Chattanooga, under the auspices of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce. Special rates will be given by the railroads to this meeting, and it is believed that the large number of commercial bodies throughout the South will have delegates present.

The meeting will be strictly a business one, the objects being to discuss and devise plans for rendering business organizations more active and efficient in the work of building up

HOLD CONVENTION OF COMMERCIAL BODIES

Meeting in Chattanooga to Improve Efficiency of Trade Bodies.

CHATTANOOGA, August 12.—At a meeting of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce Secretary W. B. Royster presented to the same the preliminary correspondence from Chattanooga, between himself and the secretaries of a large number of the leading commercial bodies of the South, who have endorsed the idea of holding a secretaries' convention and promised to attend the same should one be held.

It has been definitely determined to hold such a convention, and the dates are fixed for October 16th and 17th in the city of Chattanooga, under the auspices of the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce. Special rates will be given by the railroads to this meeting, and it is believed that the large number of commercial bodies throughout the South will have delegates present.

The meeting will be strictly a business one, the objects being to discuss and devise plans for rendering business organizations more active and efficient in the work of building up

Fall Furniture

We have bought a stock of Fall and Winter Furniture that we are proud of. You will be proud of it when it arrives.

First Grand Rapids cars now moving.

Sydnor & Hundley

(Incorporated)

LEADERS

709-11-13 East Broad St.

Dive In!

You'll touch "rock-bottom" prices. With us it's "over-board" to every lingerer on our shelves and counters.

Fresh, perfect goods, whose only offense is that they have overstayed their time.

$9.75 for Men's Suits that sold up to $16.50.

$11.75 for Men's Suits that sold up to $22.50.

$3.95 for Panama Hats that sold up to $8.

Jacobs & Levy.

KOREAN PRINCE IS TO BE HANGED

Yi Sang Sol, Nephew of Emperor, Is Sentenced to Death.

PRINCE CHARGES TREACHERY

Japanese Responsible, but He Blames Traitorous Koreans for His Sentence.

SEOUL, August 12.—The Korean supreme court has passed sentence upon the members of the Hague deputation. Yi Sang Sol has been condemned to be hanged and Yi Wi Chow and Yi Chun have been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Condemned Man Talks.

NEW YORK, August 12.—News that he had been sentenced to death and that his associates in the ill-fated mission to the Hague had been condemned to life imprisonment was conveyed to Prince Yi Sang Sol, nephew of the Emperor of Korea, at the Broadway Central Hotel here early to-day.

The Japanese, of course, are responsible for this," the prince commented. "I do not blame them so much, however, as I blame the traitorous Koreans who have sold themselves to the Japanese. The only effect of this action against me will be to add energy and enthusiasm to the work of patriotic Koreans for their country."

"This order for my execution will certainly be carried out if I ever go to Korea. If I could gain anything for my country by putting my head in the Japanese noose I should be very glad to do so, but I can't see that I should serve any good purpose by doing so now, and it is not my purpose to return to Korea. I shall keep up my work for Korea here and look for greater energy and determination in support of that work as a result of the sentence of death pronounced upon me."

Prince Yi recently sent to President Roosevelt a request for a private audience.

The prince has received a reply in which the President stated that he would have no time at present to grant such an audience.

Prince Yi said that he accepted this as a declaration that he would not see him, and would make no further effort in that direction at present.

DR. HOPKINS HAS RESIGNED

City Bacteriologist Retires—Dr. Freeman to Fill Position Temporarily.

Dr. E. Guy Hopkins, City Bacteriologist, offered his resignation to the Board of Health last night, and Dr. A. W. Freeman, medical examiner of the department, was designated to act until his successor is chosen. The resignation of Dr. Hopkins was not the result of any friction or feeling between himself and the board. He is retiring simply because of the demands upon him for private practice. The matter of Dr. Hopkins's successor was not considered last night, owing to the absence from the city of Health Officer E. C. Levy. It is probable that the matter will come up at the next meeting.

Dr. Freeman, who is the medical examiner of the department, and who is regarded as thoroughly capable, volunteered his services until a successor to Dr. Hopkins is chosen, and he was at once designated by the board.

Beyond this, all the other business disposed of was routine in its nature.

LORD SETTON RESIGNS.

British Cabinet Officer Opposes Liberal Land Laws.

LONDON, August 12.—Lord Setton, who was appointed master of the horse when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman first formed his ministry, has resigned as a protest against the land legislation inaugurated by the Liberals.

This is the first defection from the Campbell-Bannerman ministry.

Census of Canal Zone.

PANAMA, August 12.—A census of the Canal zone, just completed, shows nearly 50,000 inhabitants of the zone. About twenty per cent of the total are white.

REAL HAPPINESS

Does not consist of riches, but is for those who possess good health. A sickly man, who makes the stomach strong and healthy, and enjoys the fruits of life, is a real happy man. Doan's Backache, Constipation, Biliousness, Diarrhoea or Female Ills, man or woman, besides being miserable, is badly handicapped in life's race; but, then, there's no excuse for being sickly. Just let

HOPKIN'S STOMACH BITTERS

Build up and renew the entire system.

Old Cronies Tell How the Father of John D. Brought Him Up--Gave Him His "Time" for $40 and Then Charged Him for Board.

NEW YORK, August 12.—The World, which in its Sunday edition printed a feature story on the fact that the venerable father of John D. Rockefeller is still living, though apparently not given much, if any, attention by his rich son, says to-day:

The self-effacement from affairs which William A. Rockefeller, aged ninety-four years, has suffered while his eldest son, John Davidson Rockefeller, accumulated millions enough to make him the richest man in the world, is still unexpected. The World's story yesterday telling of the efforts made during eighteen months to discover the whereabouts of this disowned father caused a tremendous stir. The public was surprised to learn that John D. Rockefeller had a father who was still alive, as none had heard of him in years.

The characterization of John D. by his brother, Frank Rockefeller, as a "monster" came as less of a surprise. Those who know Frank Rockefeller well, know that for years he has kept every business detail of his affairs the closest kind of a secret. No banker in Cleveland, no business man but understands Frank Rockefeller's position perfectly.

"Frank says," said the president of a national bank in Cleveland a year ago to a World reporter, "that every time his brother John learns that Frank has invested money in a certain enterprise, he uses all his influence and the financial resources at his command to wreck that enterprise. That is why you will be able to find no one who will tell you where Frank Rockefeller's money is invested. To give the information would be to betray Frank."

William A. Rockefeller, the father, regards Frank as his favorite child. There is reason to believe, from what Frank Rockefeller has said to World reporters, and from other sources, that when William A. Rockefeller finally discovered he will be found out-spoken in his criticism of his son John.

When World reporters were tracing the faint, faded, and looked as if it might lead up to the present whereabouts of William A. Rockefeller, or "Doc," as he was generally called in the old days, much time was spent in Strongsville and Parma. These farming communities, formerly in the southeast of Cleveland, knew William A. Rockefeller when he moved west from New York and where he lived with his growing family for several years before going to Cleveland. It was here that John D. Rockefeller had his first romance, and the World reporters met and talked with Mrs. Joseph Webster, who, as Melinda Miller, was John D. Rockefeller's first sweetheart.

John D.'s First Romance.

When Melinda was a young girl she worked with William Hamilton and his wife, Melinda, William A. Rockefeller's sister. Then "Doc" Rockefeller moved his family to a house in Parma on the Plank Road, and Melinda went along with them. John D. was born here in Cleveland, but he came home frequently. The family had not lived in Parma more than three weeks when Melinda's mother arrived from the Miller farm, and took her daughter home.

"She nearly broke Strongsville in two with the row she raised," is the way the relatives describe it to-day.

The Millers, the Humistons, the Websters, all prosperous farmers, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips, I think he was treating cancer patients, trading horses and picking up the dollars one way and another, "Doc" was too smart to take a chance on getting arrested. He always had plenty of ways of making money, and when he went away on those long trips